Course Description (from university catalog):

This course considers the ethical and legal conflicts or dilemmas within the legal system and includes a discussion of other professional issues such as race, ethnicity, and sexual orientation. The course reviews applicable approaches to addressing or resolving these issues, dilemmas, and conflicts as they relate to forensic psychology.

Course Objectives:

- To understand from where ethics derive, and how ethics apply to your role in forensic psychology
- To understand specific ethical obligations of psychologists and within the legal system such as being an expert witness, interrogating, and medicating to induce sanity for the purpose of applying the death penalty
- To understand ethical obligations of conducting research in general and with those under the age of 18
- To understand ethical obligations when dealing with children; mandated reporting laws, and domestic violence
- To understand both ethical and legal obligations of practice-related issues such as confidentiality, record keeping, duty to warn, and suicide prevention
- To understand how cultural, racial, religious, and ethnic diversity affects ethical obligations

Evaluation Methods:

1. Midterm Exam: 30%
2. Final Exam: 30%

Exams will consist of a possible combination of multiple-choice, short-answer and/or essay questions. The questions will come from your assigned readings and online lectures. The quality of writing may be used in grading essays.

3. Paper: 20%

Papers may be written on any topic related to the course objectives. Topics must be approved by January 21. Papers must adhere to formatting and style set forth in the APA Publication Manual, and are expected to contain no grammar or spelling errors. Papers should be a maximum of 10 to 15 pages. Papers will be due via email by February 11.

4. Attendance/Participation: 20%

Due to the nature of online classes, participation in online discussions is very important. Students are expected to complete any required reading on time. "Lectures" will be posted by Monday evenings for that week's topic. Following each posted lecture, discussion questions or topics will be posted. Students are required to respond to those questions or topics within that week. Students are required to post a thought, question, or response to someone else's questions, or otherwise contribute to the forum, a minimum of two times per week. In addition, students are required to complete any posted exercises.

Grading:

Exams, Paper, and Assignments will be graded from 0 to 100 points

Grading Scale:

90 - 100 =	A
80 - 89 =	B
70 - 79 =	C

ADA Accommodations

Argosy University is committed to providing qualified students with a disability an equal opportunity to access the benefits, rights and privileges of college services, programs and activities in compliance with The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. If you have a disability-related need for accommodations in this class, contact the Campus Director of Student Services at 510-215-0277.

University Policy on Plagiarism and Screening for Plagiarism

Argosy University seeks to foster a spirit of honesty and integrity. Any work submitted by a student must represent original work produced by that student. Any source used by a student must be documented through normal scholarly references and citations, and the extent to which any sources have been used must be apparent to the reader. Argosy University further considers resubmission of a work produced for one course in a subsequent course or the submission of work done partially or entirely by another to be academic dishonesty. It is the student's responsibility to seek clarification from the course instructor about how much help may be received in completing an assignment or exam or project and what sources may be used. Students found guilty of academic dishonesty or plagiarism shall be subject to disciplinary action up to and including dismissal from Argosy University.

You may be asked to submit your course assignments through "Turnitin," (www.turnitin.com), an online resource established to help educators develop writing/research skills and to detect potential cases of academic dishonesty. Turnitin compares submitted papers to billions of pages of content and provides a comparison report to your instructor. This comparison detects papers that share common information and duplicative language.

Argosy University Ethical Code of Conduct

Students are expected to conduct themselves in an ethical, professional, and civil manner. Unprofessional behavior includes, but is not limited to, hostile or careless uses of profanity or obscenities, physical displays of anger or aggressiveness, threatening gestures or comments, violence or harassment, insubordination or persistent, disrespectful arguing with supervisors, or any other illegal or unethical conduct. Unprofessional behavior may be cause for disciplinary action.

Argosy University is dedicated to the advancement of knowledge and learning, as well as to the development of responsible personal and social conduct. Each student, by registering, assumes the responsibility of becoming familiar with, and abiding by, the general standards of conduct expected by Argosy University. This set of standards, known as the Argosy University Ethical Code of Conduct, is not to be confused with the guidelines set forth in other professional association ethics codes. Specifically, each student is expected to refrain from engaging in the following:

- Academic dishonesty of any kind with respect to examinations or coursework. This includes any form of cheating and plagiarism.
- Falsification or alteration of Argosy University documents, records, or identification cards
- Forgery, issuing bad checks, or not meeting financial obligations to Argosy University
- Theft or the deliberate damaging or misusing of property belonging to others or the property of Argosy University

- The manufacture, possession, use, or distribution of any form of alcoholic beverages or illegal drugs while on Argosy University property
- Possession, display, or use of any dangerous instrument, weapon, or explosives (certified law enforcement officers required by their employer to carry a firearm are excluded)
- Disrupting the study of others or of Argosy University activities, or interfering with the freedom of movement of any member or guest of the Argosy University community.
- Deliberate interference with academic freedom, freedom of speech, or movement of any member or guest of the Argosy University community
- Participation in any activity that disrupts or interferes with the education of others or the orderly operation of Argosy University
- Physical abuse, threatening acts, or harassment toward others

In addition, students in the clinical psychology programs are also required to adhere to the standards set forth in the American Psychological Association Ethical Principles of Psychologists and Code of Conduct.

Students found guilty of violating Argosy University's Ethical Code of Conduct are subject to sanctions up to and including dismissal from Argosy University.
